 City of Rock Hill, SC After reviewing the comments and understanding the strong feelings you have about being neighborly, we will forgo the $50 per week charge to those fleeing Hurricane Irma. Thank you for sharing your concerns and encouragement of waiving the fee. As a staff, we apologize to the people of Rock Hill—including Mayor and Council—for not considering our options more clearly from the outset. Maryanne Grobusky Genus TerryWindell...i saw a FB post yesterday saying the City was charging $50/night. Was that fake news or did the City change to free? Fyi...i replied to that post yesterday basically saying the City should be ashamed for charging evacuees.

Rick Wetherell They changed it to free based on the feedback on Facebook.

Rick Wetherell They also said it was supposed to be 50/week and it was initially an error. Either way they made it right. I'm proud of them for admitting when they were wrong and publicly so.

Celanese Lane Restrictions on Jan 22--A celebration of life service for York County Sheriff's Office Det. Mike Doty will be held Monday, January 22, with a noon service at Calvary Church, 5801 Pineville-Matthews Road, Charlotte, NC, followed by interment at Forest Hills Cemetery, 4290 Old York Road, Rock Hill, SC 29732. To accommodate the large number of police vehicles we expect, a portion of Celanese Road in front of Forest Hills Cemetery will be closed to park vehicles. Starting at 1:30 p.m., westbound traffic between Museum Road and Rawlinson Road will be diverted into one lane on the eastbound side, with eastbound traffic limited to one lane.

In addition, we expect a large procession from Calvary Church to Forest Hills following the noon service. Intersections along Celanese will be closed to accommodate the procession, which we expect to arrive in Rock Hill any time between 1:30 and 3 p.m. The graveside service is scheduled to begin shortly after the family arrives at Forest Hills Cemetery, approximately 3 p.m.

The service is for family, close friends and law enforcement. To show respect, safely line the route along Celanese during the procession.

We thank you for your patience as York County comes together to honor this fallen hero.
